

Pitch Exercise 5.2–1

Intervals in the Key of C Major

The intervals of the Major Scale first covered in handout 4.1 are notated on the following pages in the Key of C Major. Practice singing these:

- 1) On Sol-Fa Syllables, as shown in 5.2–2 or –4
- 2) On Sol-Fa Syllables, but without the syllables written under the notes (as shown on 5.2–3 or –5)
- 3) Using a solfege-neutral syllable, such as “ma” or “du,” just thinking the Sol-Fa syllables

The ultimate objective is that, given the reference pitch DO — “middle C” in this case — you can

- Look at the notes in front of you
- Identify the intervals in terms of Sol-Fa syllables
- AUDIATE the interval (i.e. hear it in your head), using Sol-Fa as an aid
- Sing the interval correctly

{If you need to, you can find middle C at the following URL:
<http://www.sheetmusicdigital.com/smdlesson3.asp>}

Tenors and basses should alternate practicing in treble and bass clef.